

Editor Notes—Title Page Essentials

One of the first pages you create in your yearbook (usually page one) will be your title page. Make sure it has all the essential elements (see below) that a good title page should have.

- ✓ The title of your book.
- ✓ The name of your school.
- ✓ The complete address including mailing and physical addresses if they differ.
- ✓ The current phone and fax number.
- ✓ The school's website and general e-mail address.
- ✓ The volume number (this is not always the number of years the school has been in existence but the number of yearbooks that the school has published.)
- ✓ The current enrollment of your school. This can become a very important historical factoid down the road.
